STEEL STRIKE POSSIBLE ON JANUARY 3RD

Pittsburgh, Dec. 28.—(P)—The union will escape a crippling steel strike on New Year's Day—but will have to face the threat again on Jan. 3.

The wage-policy committee of the CIO United Steelworkers voted to defer a work stoppage for at least three days. That gives the special USW convention in Atlantic City the final say on calling a strike.

The convention also will make the union's formal answer to President Truman's appeal to avert a strike and submit the steel contract dispute to the Wage Stabilization Board. The steel companies already have agreed to the president's proposal.

The action of the wage policy committee had been widely predicted. Mr. Truman, who says there must not be a steel strike in view of the national defense emergency, has declared he will use every law on the books to prevent a walkout.

If the convention accepts the president's plan, the Wage Stabilization Board will study arguments and outline recommendations. These will not be binding on either side.

An entire new contract between the big union and the country's steel companies is at stake.

The union's 22 demands are topped by a call for an 18½ cent hourly wage increase. Phillip Murray, CIO and USW president also wants a guaranteed annual wage, union shop, and other concessions for the men in the mills. He says higher living costs and industry profits justify a substantial wage increase.

The 650,000 USW members employed in the industry now average slightly less than $2 an hour.

Mr. Truman expressed happiness and hope when he heard the news at his Independence, Mo., home where he is spending the Yule holidays. The hope was that there will be no strike at all.

When federal mediators failed to make any progress, Mr. Truman turned the dispute over to the Wage Stabilization Board.

U. N. Command Says 450 American Soldiers Have Died In N. Korean Prison Camps

Munsan, Korea, Dec. 28.—(P)—The U. N. command said today at least 450 American soldiers have died in North Korean prison camps.

An official communiqué said that 77 per cent of United Nations troops known to have been imprisoned in rear areas and not accounted for in last week's list of living prisoners.

Simultaneously the Communists indicated a complete list of living U. N. prisoners already in Allied hands.

The 450 soldiers were not among those listed on the Communist roster of 11,559 prisoners. They apparently were among 571 Americans the Reds said Wednesday had died of disease or were killed by Allied air raids or artillery fire.

The U. N. command said its announcement was based on a study of the Reds' Wednesday report.

"We must presume they died in prison camps," said Brig. William P. Nuckolls, official U. N. spokesman. "This is the first time we have had knowledge of any deaths in prison camps."

The Allied announcement Friday increased neither the number or known dead nor captured. It was part of the U. N. effort to pinpoint exactly what has happened to every Allied soldier captured by the Reds.

The U. N. command said it knows that of 357 American soldiers for which the Reds still have made no accounts, at least 135 reached rear area prison camps.

Aside from hinting at the fate of American prisoners whose names failed to appear on the Red roster, communist negotiators offered no further accounting of some 50,000 soldiers the U. N. says have not been listed.

U. N. negotiators at Panmunjom again accused the Reds of insincerity and stalling the truce talks.

The Communists, in turn, declared that Allied insistence on banning a Red air buildup during an armistice runs the "risk of throwing overboard completely the whole basis" of negotiations.

Red China's Peiping radio quoted a Communist negotiator as telling U. N. delegates at Panmunjom: "If you want the negotiations to continue, I must ask you to repeat such statements."

The Reds again refused to put in writing an oral promise not to build up their air strength during an armistice.

While the war of words raged on without letup—and without apparent decision—there was no indication that the Korean battle front was about to explode into action even though the 30-day cease-fire line agreement had expired Thursday midnight.

Most observers expected the "twilight war" to continue for the time being at least.

Executive Director Of the P. I. A. A. Is Latrobe Principal

Harrisburg, Dec. 28.—(P)—Mark N. Funk, Latrobe, was named today to the post of executive director of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association.

The Latrobe high school principal stepped down from the presidency of the PIAA to take over the new post as successor to the late Edmund Wicht who died last September.

The PIAA board of control, in choosing Funk from a list of some 30 candidates, gave him a five-year contract at $8,500 a year. Wicht had received $6,500.

W. E. Griffith, Somerset, PIAA treasurer, said Funk will take over his new duties as soon as he is released from his Latrobe school post, probably after Jan. 1.

The board also elected H. D. Leberman, Erie, as the new PIAA president to replace Funk. Leberman, a PIAA vice president, also is chairman of District 11.

ABORTIONIST SENTENCED.
Pittsburgh, Dec. 28.—(P)—Mrs. Mary Doyle began today serving an indefinite term in the women's industrial home at Muncie after being convicted of criminal abortion. Mrs. Doyle was arrested after Mrs. Donna Haines, 26, of Waynesburg, was found dead in the Doyle home.

Stassen's Announcement as Candidate For Nomination Has Differing Reaction

Washington, Dec. 28.—(P)—Harold E. Stassen's announcement as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination brought differing reaction today as to whether Gen. Eisenhower also will get into the GOP race.

Backers of Eisenhower for the No. 1 place on the party ticket said anew the general will be available. They said Stassen's bid has not changed the situation.

Senator Moody (D-Mich.), on the other hand, declared the principal implication in Stassen's announcement was that "Eisenhower will not run as a Republican."

Stassen himself said in announcing his candidacy last night in Philadelphia that he was authorizing no "assumption or conclusion" as to what Eisenhower's plans may be.

Stassen, who recently conferred with the general in Paris, repeatedly turned aside reporters' questions regarding what was said at that meeting. He described the conference as "personal in nature."

Politicians already are raising and debating these questions:

1. Did Stassen decide to bid for the nomination because of any indication from Eisenhower that he would not be a candidate?

2. Did Stassen announce with the intention of throwing his support to Eisenhower at the party convention next July in a possible move to keep the nomination from going to Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio? Like Stassen and Gov. Earl Warren of California, Taft is an avowed candidate for the GOP presidential nomination. Stassen has spoken out against Taft.

3. Is Stassen anticipating a Taft-Eisenhower deadlock that might swing the nomination to him?

Cold Over Eastern Part of Country

By The Associated Press
Southerly winds blew warmer air from Texas and the south-west into the chilled and snow-covered midwest today, but it was cold over the eastern part of the country.

Temperatures ranged from 10 to 20 degrees higher early today in the upper midwest and the northern plains states. It was below zero over much of the area yesterday. The warmer weather was in prospect for the next two days.

Light snow fell from New York state westward into Michigan and Wisconsin to the Dakotas. Rain mixed with snow hit parts of Idaho, Washington and Oregon and rain pelted northern California.

Four Guilty of Intoxicated Driving To Spend New Year's Day in County Jail

Four drivers who entered pleas of guilty to charges of driving while intoxicated will see the dawn of 1952 through the barred windows of the Warren county jail, each having received a jail sentence in addition to being assessed costs of prosecution and a $100 fine.

William L. Staples will serve 15 days, Ellsworth J. Woodard will serve 20 days, while Merle C. Albaugh and Joseph F. Enick each will be guest of the county for 10 days.

Joseph Dolansky of Pittsburgh, on a similar charge, also was assessed costs of prosecution, the $100 fine and will start serving a 10-day jail sentence, January 7.

William E. Miller, who pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery, must pay costs of prosecution, a $100 fine, and spend six months in county jail.

Edward Miller, Conewango township, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of shooting a dog.

Several non-support cases were up for consideration by Judge Allison D. Wade today. LeRoy H. Blume, a woodsman who has been working at various camps in McKean county, was brought in on a bench warrant this morning and was sentenced by Judge Wade to spend three months in the county jail on a charge of contempt of court in his refusal to pay support allocations.

Harold F. Beach, on a charge of speeding, and E. F. Tome, on two game law violation charges, were to come before the judge this afternoon.

DISCUSS PLAN OF FINANCING ARMY IN WEST

Paris, Dec. 28.—(P)—Foreign and finance ministers of six west European nations met today to try figuring out how to pay for the planned 43-division Continental Army.

West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer attended.

After the morning session official sources said considerable progress was made. Dutch Foreign Minister Dirk U. Stikker told reporters "there is every sign that an agreement will be reached to form a common budget" for the proposed army.

Italian Premier-Foreign Minister Alcide De Gasperi said the morning talks went fairly well on what he called a broad review of financial questions. Adenauer declined to comment.

Two general views were expected to be aired at the session in the French foreign ministry.

1.—A German proposal for a single treasury to which all six nations—France, Germany, Italy, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg—would contribute.

2.—The Benelux idea for each country to pay for its own soldiers in its own currency.

The general situation after 10 months of debate and probing boiled down to whether a coalition or a federation would be the best way to pool forces for a single defense.

All have agreed that a single, one-uniform army would be the best means of getting Germans back into military circulation without Nationalistic tendencies and the most efficient way of lining up against Communist aggression.

First Letters From Prisoners on Way

Tokyo, Dec. 28.—(P)—A nine-pound bag holding the first batch of letters from Allied prisoners in North Korean camps started toward the United States by plane today.

The mail arrived from Korea earlier in the day and was speeded along after processing at an army post office. The Communists turned over more than 800 letters from Allied prisoners to United Nations delegates at the Panmunjom truce talks Wednesday.

It was not determined immediately if the army released all letters for forwarding.

Some came in American style white envelopes. Others, apparently supplied by the Communists, had red, green or blue borders. These last also carried a picture of a dove of peace holding an olive branch.

The letters were grouped in bundles under state headings, placed in an orange-colored bag and marked "POW mail express."

BIBLE WRITTEN IN LONG HAND YULE GIFT

Troy, N. Y., Dec. 28.—(P)—William Gille received a unique Christmas present—a copy of the Bible written in long-hand by his mother.

Mrs. William Gille, 65, of New York, said the project took 15 years, 18 bottles of ink and covered 1,828 pages of paper. She used only one pen.

Mrs. Gille, a Seventh Day Adventist, copied the King James version of the Bible. She said she wrote during her spare time, in periods ranging from 10 minutes to more than four hours.

The task, which fulfilled a childhood dream, never tired her, Mrs. Gille said. Instead, she added, it gave her a "lift."

Warren County's First Casualty In The Korean War to be Buried Sunday

Full military honors will be accorded Cpl. William J. Scott, formerly of Pittsfield and Warren county's first fatality in the Korea conflict, when his body is laid to rest in Pittsfield Cemetery, Sunday afternoon.

Accompanied by a military escort, the remains of the young hero will arrive in Youngsville on the morning train, Saturday, and will be removed to Young's Funeral Home where Rev. Wayne Rothwell, pastor of the Pittsfield E. U. B. church, will conduct funeral services at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

Harry Noonan, commander, and Clair Schnell, chaplain, Halgren-Wilcox Post No. 658, of the American Legion, are completing plans today for military rites at the cemetery.

A firing squad and bugler will represent the Post, which is also arranging for the bearers, and the American Legion ritual will be read at the graveside. One of the bearers will be Cpl. Robert Tanner of Corry, recently returned from Korea, who went through basic training with Cpl. Scott. It was hoped another of his former buddies could come from Ohio but when his home was contacted today, it was learned he had already returned to his base after a furlough at home.

Cpl. Scott was born in Warren, Sept. 14, 1930, son of the late Carolyn Kibbey Scott, and had lived since he was 12 years old with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Orie A. Kibbey, Pittsfield. He was in his senior year at Youngsville High school when he enlisted at Warren in January, 1949. He received his basic training at Fort Knox, Ky., and was on duty at Fort Lewis, Wash., when sent to Korea in July, 1950. He was killed in action, March 15, 1951.

Cpl. Scott is survived by one sister, Ada Scott of Chicago; and by four uncles: Orie A. Kibbey of Pittsfield; Dale Kibbey of Erie; Charles Kibbey of Titusville; and David Kibbey of Phoenix, Arizona.

Commitment will be made in the Kibbey family plot in Pittsfield cemetery.

Gov. Fine Signs Into Law the State's $113 Million Patchwork Tax Program

Harrisburg, Dec. 28.—(P)—Pennsylvania's $113 million patchwork tax program stood adopted today and all that remained was to collect the money.

Gov. John S. Fine signed into law yesterday the final bills in the package designed to finance commonwealth operations until May 31, 1953.

The governor, who had advanced a flat $5 per $1,000 income tax as the solution to the state's fiscal problems, said he signed the bills with "reluctance and some misgivings."

He added, however, that "as these bills are the sources of much needed revenue I was obliged to approve them."

The general assembly sent the tax package to the governor's desk less than two weeks ago as a compromise after the fallen income tax was finally discarded.

The deadlock over the one-half of one per cent income levy had extended the 1951 legislature into the longest session in Pennsylvania history.

Eleven Republican senators joined with a solid Democratic bloc of 20 votes to hold up the income tax after it had won approval many months ago in the house.

The compromise tax program includes two temporary and three permanent taxes. The temporary taxes extend only until May 31, 1953.

The legislature last summer increased the corporate net income tax from four to five per cent to raise an extra $48 million.

Last week Fine signed bills on inheritance and insurance premium taxes.

FLIERS MET AT BORDER BY AMBASSADOR

Nickelsdorf, Austria, Dec. 28.—(P)—The four American airmen jailed by Communist Hungary for 40 days came back to freedom tonight.

The fliers crossed the Hungarian frontier into Austria at 5:01 p. m. (10:00 a. m., EST). Within a few minutes they were sped on their way back to their base at Erding, Germany.

U. S. officials at the border kept the four men under wraps, but as they were starting to drive to Tulln air base, outside Vienna, one of them was asked by a reporter how he was treated in Hungary.

"All right" was all that Sgt. Jess Duff, of Spokane, Wash., replied. He was the mechanic aboard the C-47 transport forced down on Hungarian soil by Soviet fighter planes No. 19.

The four men appeared through the mist of the raw, damp evening, looking tired. They were hustled into a room of the Austrian border police building. Eagerly they drank the coffee and ate the sandwiches provided by the welcoming party. Two stiff Russian officers and the American party, joined in the snack.

Walter J. Donnelly, the U. S. ambassador in Vienna, came to the Austrian frontier to greet the fliers. The U. S. had agreed to pay $120,000 in fines against the men on a charge of violating the Hungarian border, provided the men were promptly released.

Donnelly announced in Vienna earlier today that the fliers would be released at 4 p. m. (10 a. m., EST). He then sped to the frontier, but it was not until 4:30 o'clock he received Soviet permission to cross through the frontier barrier past Soviet guards.

The fliers were accompanied across the border by Lt. Col. William Alden Somerby, U. S. air attaché in the American Legation at Budapest. Somerby wore civilian clothing.

Immediately upon reaching the Austrian side of the frontier, the fliers went into a police post building, accompanied by High Commissioner Donnelly and Col. John Gillett, commander of the U. S. Air Force base at Tulln, along with other members of the American welcoming party.

The airmen wore their Air Force uniforms.

The four fliers, who looked tired, went into a room from which photographers and reporters were barred.

Donnelly brought the men through the border barrier in his big car, bedecked with the American flag and his blue ambassador's banner.

Donnelly's car stopped just outside the door of the police post building. The fliers were rushed inside by American officials.

The fliers are:

Capt. John J. Swift of Glens Falls, N. Y., pilot.

Capt. Dave H. Henderson of Shawnee, Okla., co-pilot.

T/Sgt. Jess A. Duff of Spokane, Wash., mechanic.

Sgt. James A. Elam of Kingsland, Ark., radio man.

They were forced down near Papa, Hungary, November 19 by Soviet fighter planes stationed in Communist-ruled Hungary under the World War II peace treaty. In a twin-engine C-47 they were en route from Erding, Germany, to Belgrade, Yugoslavia, on a route.

Jury Deliberating Case Against Maid

New York, Dec. 28.—(P)—A 12-man jury today began deliberating whether Actress Tallulah Bankhead's former maid-secretary, Mrs. Evelyn Cronin, was guilty of grand larceny and forgery in raising checks signed by the actress.

If found guilty, Mrs. Cronin faced a possible sentence of 85 years.

The jury retired at 11:35 after General Sessions Judge Harold A. Stevens reduced the number of counts to be considered to 10. The original indictment contained 32.

One of the counts to be considered charged Mrs. Cronin with larceny of $4,284.60, the aggregate of the amounts described in the remainder of the indictment.

Senator Claims Son in Army Ill With Scarlet Fever Was Treated for Poison

Washington, Dec. 28.—(P)—Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) said today the Army had treated his son, Mark Gillette, 21, "for poison ivy when actually he was suffering from scarlet fever."

Gillette said the mistaken diagnosis was made in October at the Army Training Center at Camp Pickett, Va., and he was assured later by Army Medical leaders that what he termed medical incompetence there would be corrected.

Mark Gillette was inducted in March under Selective Service at Camp Meade, Md., and sent to Camp Pickett for six weeks basic infantry training, his father told a reporter.

"He came home on a weekend pass and was so seriously ill that I had to carry him into the house," the senator said. "We called a civilian doctor and he said Mark had an advanced case of scarlet fever."

Gillette said Army Medical authorities at Walter Reed Hospital then confirmed the diagnosis and kept his son a patient there for seven weeks. He said his son, meanwhile, had been assigned to Fort Meyer, just across the Potomac river from Washington.

Fine Announces Signing of Teachers' Pay Bill in Address Before P. S. E. A.

Harrisburg, Dec. 28.—(P)—Pennsylvania's school teachers have it straight from Gov. John S. Fine himself that they're getting a $56,000,000 a year pay boost.

Fine announced he had signed the necessary legislation—passed by the 1951 legislature—last night in an address before the annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Education Association.

It will mean an immediate $200 a year salary increase for most teachers and will be in addition to $200 more allotted the teachers under mandated increases granted by the 1949 legislature.

The governor said he signed the bills in fulfillment of his campaign pledges and with "tremendous satisfaction."

The pay boost was supported by the PSEA which contended that it is needed to "recruit new teachers and to hold our present teachers in their positions."

Under the new legislation the minimum salary for teachers will go from $2,000 to $2,400 a year.

Teachers holding standard certificates will receive eight $200 a year salary boosts until they reach a maximum of $4,000. The maximum for college certificated teachers goes to $4,400, with $4,800 the top for those with master's degrees.

In other convention business, Herbert F. Lauterbach, of Allentown, and Miss Ruth Krapf, Hazleton, were nominated PSEA president. The successor, John M. Lumley, Dushore, was chosen in an election later. The winner will be announced tomorrow.

Approximately 12,000 copies of the new grey-covered books will be delivered by mailmen in this area, Mr. Keck said. This is an increase of about 600 over last year's distribution.

The new books contain approximately 10,200 alphabetical listings, an increase of 500. There are also 2,850 classified business and professional listings.

The boys joined in the group singing, with Philip Jewell as their song leader, and then chose teams and entered into a tug-of-war competition. Nicky Creola, Henry, Terry, Moher, Jewell, Moore and Highhouse were team captains, with young Mr. Jewell's team the prize winner at the end of the elimination.

Notice of Interest to Warren Aliens

Postmaster B. S. Knabenhue today called attention to the annual registration of aliens, blank cards for which will be available at the Warren postoffice on Wednesday, January 2.

With two exceptions, all aliens residing in the United States on January 1 must register if their naturalization proceedings have not been completed and they do not hold a certification of naturalization. The exceptions: aliens temporarily admitted to the United States who have not overstayed their authorized period of admission, students whose period of admission has not yet expired and who have not violated any of the conditions of their admission.

Aliens must register between January 2 to 11, inclusive, and during the same period each year thereafter. The address report cards (Form 1-53) will be available at the local postoffice or at any other postoffice. Registration of aliens is required in the Internal Security Act of 1950 and the Alien Registration Act of 1940.

In the case of any alien under the age of 14, whose registration was applied for by a parent or legal guardian, it will be the responsibility of the parent or guardian to submit the address report.

Failure to comply with the regulations will, upon conviction, result in a fine or imprisonment or both.

Worshipful Masters Honored by Masonic Lodges

The above picture taken during St. John's day exercises at the Masonic Temple shows Chester Kyler, second from left, being presented with past master's jewel on behalf of North Star Lodge No. 241, F. & A. M., by Robert Trusler, past master, center. Others in the photo are Marshall J. Johnson, new worshipful master, left; Ralph A. Harrah, senior warden, second from right, and Charles Cable, junior warden. Below, shows Karl Timm, center, retiring master of Joseph Warren Lodge No. 726, being presented jewel by the new worshipful master, George Irwin, right. John Decker, left, is the junior warden. Francis Morris, new senior warden, was not present at the time the picture was taken.

The annual program in observance of St. John's Day, sponsored by the two Masonic Lodges in Warren, attracted a capacity crowd of members of the fraternity to the auditorium in Masonic Temple Thursday evening. As usual the highlight of the affair was the presentation to retiring worshipful masters of the lodges, jewels of their office in recognition of faithful services rendered.

William H. Wood presided as toastmaster, and called on the Rev. C. B. Kinney who delivered the invocation, after which Mr. Wood made humorous remarks concerning his trip to the annual Grand Lodge meeting held in Philadelphia December 5th.

Mr. Wood then introduced Robert H. Trusler, a past master of North Star Lodge No. 241, F. & A. M., who in turn presented to the retiring worshipful master, Chester W. Kyler, a jewel, on behalf of the members of his lodge.

The new worshipful master of Joseph Warren Lodge No. 726, George M. Irwin, then presented a past master's jewel to "retiring" worshipful master Mr. Karl Timm, on behalf of his lodge.

Both retiring masters were lauded for their self-sacrificing work in behalf of their respective lodges, and each in turn expressed deep appreciation for honor bestowed in being permitted to serve their lodges.

New officers of the two lodges were then introduced as follows: North Star Lodge—Worshipful master, Marshall P. Johnson; senior warden, Ralph C. A. Harrah; junior warden, Charles W. Cable. Joseph Warren Lodge—Worshipful master, George M. Irwin; senior warden, Francis Morris; junior warden, John E. Decker.

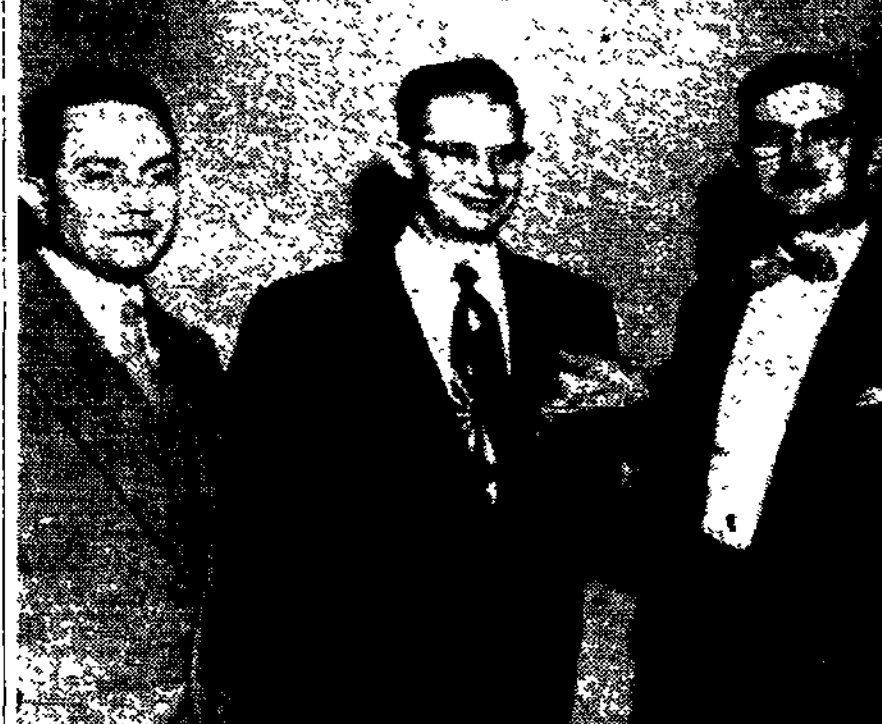

Harry P. Shawkey, known among Masons of Warren and the district as "the cane man," was introduced and in turn presented the new worshipful master of North Star Lodge with a cane on behalf of the retiring master, with a message to hand the cane to his successor with a contribution to the Zenn Crippled Children's Hospital. It will interest members of the order to learn that the Shawkey Cane Fund has contributed over $3,600 to the Hospital since it was started in 1945, the amount being raised through the sale of canes.

The principal address of the evening was delivered by the Rev. Arthur Colley, pastor of the First Methodist church, and the benediction was delivered by the Rev. Kinney, after which a buffet lunch was served in the dining room followed by a social time much enjoyed by all.

The subject of Mr. Colley's talk was "Wanted, A Man With Iron In His Blood."

The speaker said that what we needed in this country at the present moment was a revival of moral character. He went on to show that there had been a serious breakdown in moral integrity as shown by what is happening in our bank defalcations and the corruption which is being revealed in our national government.

A further need was men who would be true to their convictions, men who could neither be bought nor sold. He pleaded for a return to the solid basic convictions upon which our nation was founded. He warned against the slow but sure encroachments of the military upon our American way of life. He contended that when the military take over the state usurps the place of God and that our basic national heritage, Freedom to worship God, would be lost, and that we become another victim of the secularism of our time.

He made a further plea for men whose word is as good as their bond, pleading for genuine honesty in business, politics and religion. He closed his address with the prayer of J. G. Holland, "God give us men a time like this demands, strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands."

time delivery of supplies, when they reported themselves lost. They were not heard from until December 3 when Tass, Russian news agency, announced they had been forced down and were being held on charges of violating the iron curtain for the purpose of "planting spies and saboteurs."

The United States promptly denied the charges and demanded the fliers be released. American diplomats in Budapest tried without success to see them. Two days before Christmas Hungary announced a secret military court had tried, convicted and sentenced the four fliers. They were ordered to pay a fine of $30,000 each or spend 90 days in jail.

The Air Force planned to take the airmen to the American airbase at Tullin, near Vienna. From there it was planned to fly them to their own base at Erding, near Munich, Germany.

"AGGIE AND TISH"

Every reader of The Times-Mirror who ever read one of Mary Roberts Rhinehart's famous "Tish" stories will be delighted that they are to be put on the screen sometime in 1952. If half the humor and humanity which made them so thoroughly enjoyed and looked forward to, as they appeared in magazines, can be transferred from the page to the screen they will make a new name for themselves.

Not often are stories so characterized by keen knowledge of human foibles, by wholesome fun and the suspense of well-constructed mystery drama as these of the middle-aged ladies and their adventures. They could always be read aloud to Grandma, to Aunt Fannie or even to Abigail and she, as you very well know, belongs to the Mayflower Society, without a qualm and with certainty of giving pleasure. The only disadvantage was that the reader's voice was apt to give out in the middle of a sentence because he had to laugh. It didn't matter too much, because the listeners were pausing in their knitting while they, too, rocked with laughter.

Mrs. Rhinehart's "Tish" stories have become classics of American literature. Americans who know them will be awaiting the screen versions eagerly. Others will take them happily as they come - - - if, of course, they are as well done as they deserve to be.

NEW YEAR'S AT THE FRONT

The holiday season has often found Americans far from their homes, fighting for their country. It was during the holiday season of 1776 that Washington won one of the best-remembered victories of the Revolutionary War. His troops, ill-equipped, ill-fed and discouraged, needed something to restore their confidence and hope. In a daring move, Washington took his men across the Delaware and marched on Trenton where encamped Russian mercenaries were celebrating the holidays. He captured a thousand men and valuable food and equipment. More important, the attack showed the Americans that they could beat the better trained, better-equipped Europeans. The victory inspired throughout the colonies a surge of confidence in Washington's leadership.

The men who made their way across the icy Delaware had probably been filled with thoughts of their homes and families. But Americans knew in 1776 that freedom was so much a part of the holiday season that it was worth sacrifice and suffering.

In Korea, where our troops are fighting at this holiday season, there is evidence that Americans have changed very little, in that respect, since 1776.

WELL-TIMED BONER

We like the story of the out-of-town visitor to Shaker Heights, Ohio, who tried to put a nickel in what he thought was a parking meter, but found he had tripped a fire alarm instead. Apologetic and embarrassed, he was trying to explain to firemen when suddenly flames broke out in a store close by. The firemen were at hand before the store owner had a chance to telephone for them.

People always like to brag about the speed of their fire department but seldom do they get a chance to tell of the department which came before it was called. Not often, either, is the man who accidentally sounds the alarm in such favor. What happened about the nickel in the parking meter? The story does not tell. For once, the authorities did not care. Neither do we.

HONOR FOR BRAILLE

Almost a hundred years after his death, the government of France has decided to honor Louis Braille, inventor of the alphabet for the blind, by burial in the Pantheon in Paris. His body will rest beside those of Mirabeau, Voltaire, Victor Hugo and many other Frenchmen who won the honor and gratitude of their nation. This move by the French government may remind the world how much it owes to Braille's inventiveness.

His alphabet for the blind opened the world of written knowledge to those who cannot see. Besides making their lives happier and their darkness easier to bear, it helped blind persons to gain the knowledge which has enabled so many of them to make valuable contributions to the world. Braille's work earned him a place of honor among the great.

They're There, All Right

Here And There

A word picture of Christmas in Warren sixty years ago is reprinted from the Evening Mirror of December 26, 1891, which says:

Christmas in Warren was quiet and there was nothing to do but stand around and look lonesome, which required very little effort. The churches celebrated the occasion by entertaining the members of the Sunday schools in various ways, in some cases on Christmas eve, and in others on Christmas night. The churches were all beautifully decorated and the programs were excellent. A feature of the celebration at the Methodist church Thursday evening was in the nature of a surprise, not only to the children but to most of the older people. At a specified time a large ball made of wood and covered with cotton batting, representing a snow ball, was rolled from a side room onto the platform. It concealed a boy who made his appearance at the proper time by opening the ball and stepping out on the platform and dressed in fantastic style, creating much merriment among the young folks. The children received a generous treat and many fine presents which they took much pleasure in exhibiting to their friends. It was a great day for the children.

It is noted in the same issue that "The steamer Katunk was anchored at Port Klein for the past month, started down the river this morning having a large lumber raft in tow and is bound for Walnut Bend. The vessel was manned by Capt. Katunk, H. P. Hunter, pilot, S. M. Cogswell, first mate,

F. A. Cogswell, oarsman, David Holt; and in case of low water, Windy Cogswell. The first mate was armed with a gun as a danger signal, and carried with him in a satchel a large quantity of dynamite. The lumber in the raft is to be used in building rigs on the lease of S. M. Cogswell at Walnut Bend.

This 'n That: Seems as though there should be a simpler, more economical and less nerve-wracking way to empty dump trucks of snow over the river bank at the foot of Hazel street other than pounding the underside of the body of the vehicle with a ten pound sledge hammer. . . . A year-end record that should be jotted down in the books is the fact that "No parking at Any Time" signs kept the Hickory street bridge free of automobiles and trucks during the night, and not a vehicle was on the structure, one of the most attractive along the valley, this morning at seven o'clock. . . . Motorists having occasion to travel over Route 6 to Corry Thursday afternoon were surprised to find the highways covered with ice and hard-packed snow, although they were well plowed and plenty wide to permit safe driving under all circumstances. . . . And Corry has much more of "the beautiful" than is found in and around Warren.

The Pennsylvania Game Commission estimates that 26 hunters have been killed by gunfire in the state thus far this year, ten more than in 1950. . . . Because she was a patron of the Widmann Teah Drug chain, Mrs. Edward Lodes, of St. Marys, is the owner of a new automobile that was presented to her Monday evening. . . . The many friends of Dr. Rosetta Popp, on the staff of the Warren State Hospital for the past eleven years, wish her continued success in her new position at Torrance State Hospital, where she assumes similar duties in the institution where Dr. William Schilling, another former Warren State physician, is superintendent. . . . An epidemic of colds of rather a severe type that has sidelined many residents the past week, shows no signs of subsiding. . . . On today's church page will be found mention of many midnight church services to be held Monday evening in connection with the local welcome that is to be given the arrival of the New Year Monday night. . . . And that reminds us New Year's resolutions are in order.

More Than Wages Is Involved In Present Steel Negotiations

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Steel wage negotiations in Washington, which failed under Federal Mediation Director Cyrus S. Ching, who tossed the mess to President Truman, involved far more than getting the steelworker's another five to seven cents an hour.

Government officials dealing with wage stabilization questions seem ready to concede that the steelworkers may have something coming to them on the cost-of-living score alone.

If this were the only thing at stake, the whole business could probably be wound up without a strike on Dec. 31.

What seems to be in the background here is a desire to set a brand new wage formula.

This is apparent not only in the steelworkers' demands for a total increase of something like 18 cents an hour. It is also apparent in the fringe demands.

These include a guaranteed annual wage and other benefits. As a side issue, the CIO-Textile Workers' head, Emil Rieve, talks about the need for a $1.25 minimum wage. The present minimum under the Fair Labor Standards act is 75 cents.

What the steelworkers are after is something like an industry average of $1.95 an hour. This would give an annual wage of $4076 for 2080 hours of work a year. This is what Bureau of Labor Statistics has calculated it takes to keep an average city family of four.

The present average annual wage in steel is $3723, calculated at $1.79 an hour. Iron and Steel Institute says the average hourly rate in September was $1.97. This figures to $78 a week or $4056 a year.

PHIL MURRAY is playing a shrewd game in his new demands. He is apparently relying somewhat on a manifest weakness in the Wage Stabilization Board.

In the past year, the WSB has shown a willingness to approve wage increases over and above its freeze formula, if the fringe increases can be given a proper label.

A five to seven cents an hour raise might well fall within the WSB's present formula allowing raises of 10 (to 13) per cent to meet cost of living increases since October 1950.

Beyond that the steelworkers seem to hope that WSB will top its incentive pay allowance in the Jones and Laughlin case last November. Another few cents might be approved for an annual productivity increase now enjoyed by General Motors employees.

Perhaps a few pennies more for guaranteed annual wage allowances and other pennies for severance pay, week-end premiums and other fringe allowances. They would all add up to a healthy increase.

THE industry claims each one-cent-an-hour in wage increases boosts its costs $20 million a year. The steelworkers claim the figure should be $6 million.

Philip Murray claims further that the industry could afford to pay up to 20 cents an hour more in wages without destroying its profits. Which the industry, of course, disputes.

Iron and Steel Institute maintains that while the cost of living has risen 17 per cent since 1947, wages have gone up 28 per cent. And so the arguments fly back and forth.

At any rate, the dispute is now in Truman's hands. He'll probably turn it over to the WSB and ask Murray to hold off the threatened strike.

The government's extreme action in response to a strike would be an injunction against the union, under the Taft Hartley act.

Whether President Truman would go that far, in the face of his past efforts to have the act repealed, is problematical. It all might depend on how tough he feels when he wakes up on New Year's morning.

Sylvania Electric Products Looks For A Record-Breaking Sales Boost in '52

New York — Sylvania Electric Products Inc., which had a 25 per cent gain in net sales in 1951, may drive ahead in 1952 to the largest sales increase in its 50-year history, according to President Don G. Mitchell.

In his annual year-end review and forecast, Mr. Mitchell said Sylvania's net sales in 1951, its Golden Anniversary year, were expected to exceed $200,000,000, compared with the previous all-time high of $162,000,000 in 1950 and $102,000,000 in 1949.

Defense business made up approximately 25 per cent of Sylvania's total billings in the last quarter of 1951, and is expected to increase rapidly in the new year, leveling off at a peak of not more than 50 per cent of monthly billings.

Mr. Mitchell's statement: "Sylvania expects to close 1951 with net sales of more than $200,000,000. This would represent an increase of 25 per cent over the record $162,000,000 of 1950 and double the $102,000,000 of 1949.

"Sales estimates for 1952 indicate a larger increase in sales than has been enjoyed in any previous calendar year.

"The year 1951 saw some very decided changes in the sales trend

"Doug" Does It Again as Man of the Year

By WARREN BENNETT
AP Newsfeature Writer

Gen. Douglas MacArthur is the biggest newspaper star of 1951.

For the second successive year he has been voted Man of the Year by Associated Press newspaper editors in a nationwide year-end poll.

MacArthur has nearly double the votes of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower his nearest rival.

Here are the selections of editors in special categories:

Woman of the Year—Marguerite Higgins, Foreign Affairs—John Foster Dulles, Science—Dr. Max Theiler, Business and Industry—Charles E. Wilson, Labor—Philip Murray, Literature—Thor Heyerdahl, Entertainment—Mario Lanza, Sports—Leo Durocher.

For sheer drama, the MacArthur saga is without parallel in recent history.

In 1950, the general was first commander-in-chief of United Nations forces, supreme Allied commander for occupied Japan, and head of American armed forces in the Far East. Now MacArthur is still a five-star general but he has been stripped of all command.

MacArthur's firing by President Truman last April 11 was a shock to many Americans. A professional fighting man for 52 years, MacArthur came home to fight for his strategy on how to win the Korean war.

His "old soldiers never die" speech before Congress and his testimony before a Senate committee of inquiry brought about what has been called the Great Debate on American foreign policy in the Far East. Arranged against him were the Joint Chiefs of Staff and Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Publicans generally massed to support MacArthur.

Friends insist MacArthur's name will be entered in state primaries as a Republican candidate for president next year. But these friends still have to convince the general. On that score, MacArthur said:

"I have no political aspirations whatsoever. I do not intend to run for any political office and I hope that my name will never be used in a political way. The only politics I have is contained in a simple little phrase known well by all of you—God bless America."

JOHN FOSTER DULLES was cited as top man in foreign affairs over Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Premier Mohammed Mossadegh of Iran.

Dulles, a Republican, has been asked by three Democratic Presidents to help formulate and carry out the nation's foreign policy. In 1917, Woodrow Wilson asked him to negotiate with General American countries over protection of the Panama Canal.

In 1945 Franklin D. Roosevelt tapped him as adviser to the U. S. delegation at the charter conference of the United Nations in San Francisco. President Truman asked him to take charge of drafting the peace treaty for Japan.

stricken with yellow fever. They developed a new form of the yellow fever virus after transferring it through 200 generations of chickens in a controlled series of experiments. MOBILIZER CHARLES E. WILSON was running leader for man of the year in business and industry. A year ago he was president of General Electric. He gave up that post in private industry to mobilize the nation's industrial strength for the gigantic defense effort.

PHILIP MURRAY is a three-time winner of the annual Man of Labor title. He also was cited in 1948 and 1949.

Born in Scotland, he began work at 10 years for about 20 cents a day. He came to this country and began union activity under John L. Lewis in the United Mine Workers. Murray helped Lewis create the Congress of Industrial Organizations and became president of the Steel Workers Union. When Lewis withdrew from the CIO, Murray became its head as well.

Murray's efforts in 1951 have been important but not spectacular. He has directed a campaign to tie in worker welfare with national economy so that wage earners can roll with the punch of climbing inflation.

THOR HEYERDAHL, who crossed the Pacific on a raft, walked off with literary honors. His exciting account of that voyage, "Kon Tiki", proved a non-fiction best seller and beat out a sensational first novel, "From Here to Eternity," by James Jones. Conrad Richter, Nobel prize winner novelist was third.

IN ENTERTAINMENT, the big voice won out. That means Mario Lanza. His booming tenor is somewhat reminiscent of Caruso's, whose role Lanza played in a spectacular movie movie. His closest competition came from the prolific team of Rodgers and Hammerstein who wrote songs, plays and produced them in this country and abroad.

Third place in entertainment fell to the little voice, Judy Garland, credited with bringing about a revival of vaudeville.

LEO DUROCHER managed the New York Giants to a "Cinderella" victory for the National League pennant. Not even the world series defeat by the New York Yankees dimmed the luster of Durocher's accomplishment in driving his team, 13½ games behind on August 11, to a playoff victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Durocher's nearest rivals for outstanding sports figure of the year was Joe Walcott, new world's heavyweight boxing champion.

THE WOMAN of the year is Marguerite Higgins. A New York Herald-Tribune reporter, she won the title for her exploits as a war correspondent in Korea.

Bridge, Not Bubbles,
Is Hard on the Nerves

"I HAVE a firm conviction that more nervous women are created over the bridge table than over the wash tub." That quote comes from a recent talk by a California diagnostician before a meeting of the American Medical Association.

He may have something there. Certainly there's nothing relaxing about the afternoon bridge party. The women guests don't try to put each other at ease or in any way build up each other's egos.

Mrs. A., wearing all her diamonds, always has some bit of news to make the other women green with envy. She is going to do over her living room completely, or she is going on a cruise, or her husband has just given her some expensive present she pretends to wish he hadn't.

Mrs. B., the sharpest player in the crowd, asserts her superiority by playing a crisp, business-like game and raising a lady-like eyebrow every time a player makes what she considers a stupid play.

Mrs. C., always first with a bit of news, can be sure to tell at least two tidbits that make all the women present feel uneasy.

YOUR CLAWS ARE SHOWING, LADIES

LOTS of compliments are passed around—but some of them are left-handed. "You're looking so well, Mabel," makes Mabel feel guilty when she eats the rich dessert the hostess offers.

"That's a good-looking dress, Martha. Do you know who has one just like it?" Many others aren't even meant to sound sincere.

Underneath it all, is that fierce desire of each player to be the afternoon's winner. But even the winner may not get to leave the party feeling too pleased with herself. Some woman is almost sure to remind her that she held unbelievably good cards all afternoon.

Nope, women aren't at their best at bridge parties. Each woman is on her guard, and that can hardly be called relaxing.

New Blanket Of Snow Adds to Woes Of Boro Officials

With another inch and a half of snow added to Warren's already thick white blanket, local folks arose this morning to find the new layer to which they have become accustomed each day for the past week.

Snow for the north portion, which Warren is unlikely to escape, is predicted for tonight, with the mercury hovering around zero. The prognostication for the week end, starting Saturday, sounds somewhat different with a promise of higher temperatures, three to five degrees above normal, but will be followed by colder weather on Monday or Tuesday. Rain or snow is included in the forecast for late Sunday or Monday.

Borough snow removal experts were busy again today, and Borough Manager L. M. McConnell said they would continue their activities over the week-end and even on New Year's Day, if necessary. Despite the unusually heavy snowfall, the main thoroughfares are being kept in condition for safe driving. Although most outlying highways are clear of drifts, they are covered by a coating of snow and ice with dangerous spots well cindered. State Highway crews have been constantly at work for about 10 days.

A duet was rendered by Shirley Egbert and Sally Beckel. Mrs. R. H. Knapp's class sponsored a pageant presented by the Junior choir of Grace Methodist church under the direction of Mrs. Paul Reynolds and Mrs. Edwin Jack, musical director.

Gifts of candy were presented to different classes. Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Ross received gifts from the Sunday school and Mrs. Russell Klinger was presented a gift from the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

A group from the Youngville WCTU visited recently the Rouse Hospital, bringing with them a treat for the patients at the hospital in both the women's and men's departments. Short inspirational messages were given in each department by Rev. Wayne Rathway, pastor of churches in Pittsfield and Chandler's Valley. Readings were given by Mrs. Kerr and Mrs. Desherer pleased with appropriate solos in the different departments with Mrs. Viola Thayer leading in group singing. Each

Another quiet holiday week-end is in prospect for Warren with all offices and most business places planning to be closed all day Tuesday, New Year's Day.

Banks, the post office, forestry offices, the municipal building and the Court House will be closed. The Times-Mirror will publish on Monday but not on New Year's Day. The local Selective Service System office will close at 5 p. m. today, not to reopen until Wednesday morning. While there will be no regular delivery of mail on Tuesday, and the post office windows will be closed, the lobby will be open throughout the day and there will be delivery of special delivery items.

Visitors to Warren and others who found every restaurant in town closed on Christmas will be more fortunate on this holiday, as several food purveyors plan to serve as usual.

Clubs and other night spots are planning extra entertainment for New Year's Eve, and it is reported that reservations are going fast. The outstanding social events of the evening will be the dancing parties arranged at the Elks' club and the Conewango Valley Country club.

Independence Comes to the Shores of Tripoli—

The new year will be an historic one for the 2,150,000 people of Libya, one-time keystone of Italy's empire in Africa. By action of the United Nations, the vast territory gains its independence after 40 years of colonial rule. The U. S. is preparing to sign an agreement with the new Libyan government granting this country long-term permission to maintain its strategically important Wheelus

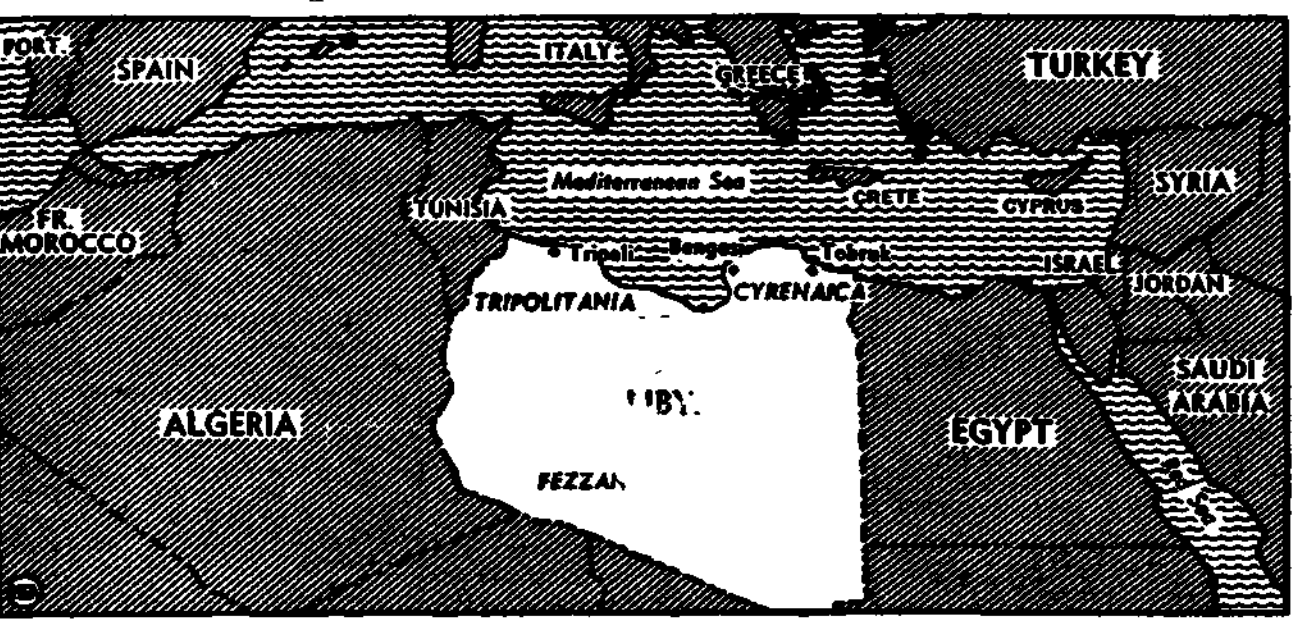

Air Base near Tripoli. In addition, Uncle Sam is expected to give the new Arab nation a "birthday" present of at least $1,000,000 in cash, plus other assistance under the Point Four program of aid to undeveloped areas. Britain and France will also be allowed to keep troops in Libya. Below are illustrated highlights in Libya's modern history.

Wren from Turkey in the war of 1911, Libya did not truly become Italy's "fourth shore" until Mussolini rose to power and sent rushing the Air Marshal Italo Balbo to govern the colony. Under Balbo's free-handed rule, military bases were established, communications improved and 25,000 Italian peasants settled in northern Libya.

During World War II, Britain's cocky Lt.-Gen. Montgomery and Germany's Gen. Rommel battled back and forth across Libya's blistering sands. Their bitter struggle for control of the North African coast won Libya the nickname, The World's Longest Battlefield. By 1942, Monty had routed Rommel and Germany's Afrika Corps.

Libya, three times the size of Texas, consists of three territories separated by wide deserts. At the end of the war, two of them, Tripolitania, boasting 800,000 of Libya's 2,150,000 population, and Cyrenaica, fell to England. France assumed responsibility for administration of the Fezzan. Looking for land and mineral resources, Libya's importance to both countries is strategic. With such ports as Tobruk, Tripoli, Benghazi, and modern air bases, Libya is a key link in the West's defense chain.

Hopeful and sixtyish Idham el Senussi, leader of 250,000 Senussi Arabs, will be Libya's king. He aided the British during war, has many foes, no male heirs.

Waverly Oil Co. Has a Costly Blaze

Pittsburgh, Dec. 28—(AP)—A spectacular fire, accompanied by intermittent explosions, destroyed the main building of the Waverly Oil Company plant at Gibsons, about 10 miles north of Pittsburgh, last night. Early estimates indicated loss would be at least $300,000. At least three firemen were injured as a dozen volunteer fire departments, handicapped by a lack of water, battled the flames. Fed by inflammable materials stored in cases, drums and big mixing kettles, the flames spread rapidly. Within a few minutes of the fire's start, the main building was doomed. Firemen concentrated on protecting a new building nearby and six storage tanks containing a total of about 40,000 gallons of oil. From time to time, one of the 120 fifty-gallon drums of oil in the main building exploded, endangering firemen.

CONVALESCING AT HOME The many friends of Mrs. Renee Sec, 82, of 116 Grant street, will be interested in learning that she is convalescing from injuries sustained in a fall in her home a week ago. She would welcome visitors either cards or letters. According to zoologists bats do not make nests.

Secondary Recovery Methods Bring New Oil Supplies From Old Fields

New York, Dec. 27—(AP)—Oilmen know exactly where billions and billions of barrels of oil lie under the United States that they haven't yet been able to coax to the surface. Some of them think they're going to be able to find the way—and soon. Defense needs of the nation for oil reserves that can be used spur the oil engineers and chemists on. Other billions of barrels that oilmen once gave up as lost forever they have now learned how to bring forth. By injecting salt water or natural gas deep into the earth they have brought back to life old oil fields they once thought the surface of the oil which nature's forces to the bottom of the well. This early use of secondary recovery assures a steady flow for years and a maximum recovery—under present methods. They are also re-entering oil fields once abandoned. They pump gas or water or both down old wells under pressure. To hasten the time it takes this water or gas to force the oil to the bottom of producing wells, they often put a vacuum on the producing well. Thus they both push and pull the oil from the rocks. But it's in the laboratory that the new methods may be found—the tertiary recovery through chemistry. In laboratories core samples—that is, cylindrical borings or rock from the oil bearing formations at the bottom of wells—are treated. Chemists say they know now how to get all but five to eight per cent of the oil out of the sample cores—contrasted to the 25 to 30 per cent that remains in the rock under methods of secondary recovery now used. The trick is to turn these laboratory methods into commercial field methods that are cheap enough to be practical. The average U. S. woman in the 25-29 age group and 5 feet 6, weighs approximately 136. Prizes will be presented to the winners by the Children's Librarian, Teresa Fino, with 1st prize going to Ann Davidson, David Trager, and Ronald Dixon; second prize going to Patty Hubbard and Gilbert Hansen; third prize going to George Fago and Judy Hammerbeck. Those children receiving honorable mention are the following: Bill Mervine, Robbie Sugerman, Alan Lundgren, David Harrison, Ann Garrison, Karen Ericsson, Gerry Archibald, Tommy Bjers, and Carol Ann Skinner. DRAGONS TO MEET STRONG ALUMNI TEAM AT BEATY TONIGHT

Winners Announced In Reading Game

Business School Trails Loop Leaders By Three Games; Style Shop Loses a Thriller

Warren Business College court moved a step closer to the league leading Texas Lunch team in the Y-M-C-A City loop last night when the Style Shop 57-119 in a real thriller.

The win gives the College a chance for the first-half title, although league action has already moved into the second round of play. Their biggest aspiration is to have another contender bump leading Texans off, as they picked up their sixth straight in last night's second game.

Setting a new season record of 57 game total, the Texas Lunch team walked away from Youngsville Wiggers by a 53-46 count.

Hud' Berdine led the Business College to its second consecutive victory with a 17-point total, acquired on five field goals and seven of 10 tries from the black stripe. Behind him was Bill Weidert with 12.

The Schoolboys held their own all the way against the defending champs, starting in the first stanza with a 12-11 advantage and were three points to the good by intermission. However, the game saw-sawed back and forth and the full house of cheering fans got every bit of its money's worth.

High for the losers was Bill Massa with 15 counters.

Turner Fights Vic Cardell Tonight

New York, Dec. 28.—(P)—The time has come for New York and the network television customers to get a look at Gil Turner, boxing's "baddest of the year" who meets Vic Cardell of Hartford, Conn., tonight at Madison Square Garden.

Turner, unbeaten welter from Philadelphia with 22 knockouts among his 26 wins, is scheduled to box 10 rounds with Cardell, starting at 10:00 p. m. (EST) on radio (ABC) and television. (NBC). Chances are it won't go the route. They have fed 21-year-old Turner no soft diet in his Philadelphia buildup. Among his knockout victims were Charlie Fusari and Bertie Deussen, both of whom fought Ray Robinson for the welter title, and former-lightweight kings Ike Williams and Beau Jack.

Through The Wind Tunnel

There are many compliments being paid the Borough this year for its snow removal activity.

Our sympathy goes out to a Warren mother, whose son was reported missing in action and who phones the office every day to ask if any more names have been released.

Pittsburgh the loser as Warren gains, the past two days, due to a brief visit here by a mighty attractive young lady from that city.

Those Business College basketballers will bear watching. They stepped up again last night.

Mike D'Angelo has sent us a copy of the Allegheny College Campus, the holiday number, which is printed in green and when you unfold its pages, out comes a very decided odor of pine needles. Mike advises that plans to inject this scent via the press were rather unsuccessful and that it frankly was added by use of an ordinary flit gun.

Many will be interested to know that Dick Groat of Swissvale, Duke's baseball and basketball luminary, may work in Warren this coming summer.

By the way, spring would suit us right well, but do you think summer will ever come?

Don gets so doggoned cheery every morning, it's contagious even if one doesn't want to be cheery. What time do you crawl out, Don? You will be interested to know that sunrise was one minute earlier today than yesterday.

One of the few mail-bait trips in the nation which ascends a white-water stream is the trip by pleasure craft from Gold Beach to Agness, Ore., up the Rogue river.

THE SCOREBOARD

Stanky May Find Life as Card Manager No Bed of Roses

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, O.—(NEA)—Some folks were surprised when Stanky May didn't immediately accept the opportunity to manage the St. Louis Cardinals.

Stanky finally signed, but only after ironing out certain differences, mainly about how long his contract would run.

Most fans and players regard a major league managerial berth as one of the most desirable of jobs.

But is it?

A lot of players who might have made good managers never got a real chance to prove their worth.

A notable case is that of Columbus' own Hank Gowdy, star of the 1914 World Series.

But he never got but one chance to manage.

They set an all-time record for ineptitude in the A. A. by winning only 39, while losing 125.

Marty Marion, Stanky's predecessor, furnishes another example.

In his first year as manager of the Cards they finished third.

Yet, Marion is out after a one-year trial.

THERE'S an old saying in football that good material makes a good coach. It's equally true in baseball that good material makes a good manager.

One outstanding quirk about managers is that few of the outstanding stars of the game seem to make highly successful managers. The late Babe Ruth, greatest star of them all, never got a chance to manage.

The late Walter Johnson wasn't nearly as successful as a manager as he was a pitcher.

If you'd ask most baseball men to name the three most successful managers of the past they'd probably list the late John McGraw, Connie Mack and Joe McCarthy. McGraw and Mack were not outstanding stars as players. McCarthy never made the major league grade as a player.

Casey Stengel and Leo Durocher would probably be listed as today's greatest managers. Casey was a good outfielder in his playing days, but never to be compared with Speaker, Cobb and Ruth. Durocher was a great fielder but one of those "good field, no hit" guys.

Stengel and Durocher can be cited to prove the whole point. Casey wasn't highly successful in other trials as a manager until he got the helm of the great Yankee aggregation.

And Durocher had a fine team to work with throughout his managerial career.

COLLEGE MEN PREDOMINATE FOR OLDSTERS

The Blue and White cagers of Warren High will face the Alumni tonight in an annual fracas that draws the spotlight of local sports fans over the holidays. Game time is slated for 8:30 o'clock on Beaty court with a preliminary tilt starting at 7:15.

It will be the last chance for the Dragons to end the year on the right foot with future hopes of starting the 1952 portion of their campaign victoriously. The first opponent for the Massmen in '52 is Franklin, their initial District 10 competition.

There is not much question that Coach Joe Massa will use his entire squad against the ex-Dragons. Working with a green crew, the local mentor is still undecided upon a starting quintet and will undoubtedly be more settled after tonight's contest.

Those likely to be dressing for the varsity are seniors Dave Seidman, Carl Falvo, Bernie Gray, Jack Mowell, Ben Pastrick, Jon Pearson, Ricky Seabise, juniors Bob Harrington, Dick Hartnett, Ron Isackson, and sophomores Cary Ettinger and Jerry Gordon.

The Alumni will be presenting a 10-man team, mostly of college students. These include Paul Gordon, Bob Hampson, Jim Stevenson, Jack Cropp, Dick Rutledge, Regis Geitner and Denny Hedgas. All the other players are currently seeing action in the Y-M-C-A City League. Bob Foley with the Texas Lunch; John Berardi, the Rockets; and Jim Sigworth is on Paul's Atlantic.

U. S. and Russia To See Competition In Olympic Contests

New York, Dec. 28.—(P)—Russia and the United States moved closer today to their first major encounter in sports, but whether it would occur in the winter Olympic games in Oslo or not until the summer games at Helsinki was open to doubt.

Many world records have been claimed in Moscow but few athletes from behind the iron curtain have competed in the free world—and there have been some embarrassing desertions from the teams of Russia's satellites such as in tennis tournaments or the 1948 London Olympic games.

Soviet Russia has never competed in the Olympics, but it took another step in that direction when the Soviet Olympics committee decided in Moscow to inform Finland that a "preliminary agreement" had been reached to participate at Helsinki July 19-Aug. 3.

The Norwegians are generally convinced the Russians will show up for the games at Oslo Feb. 14-25. The United States is sending a team of 79 competitors to Oslo and the usual full Olympic team to Helsinki, probably about 450.

Except for weight-lifting (in which the U. S. won the honors) and minor competition, Russia and America have never met head-on in athletics. Neither is rated with the Scandinavians in winter sports, but the United States has always

Winter Sports Areas in Pennsylvania Are Getting Ready for a Busy Season

Harrisburg — Skiing, tobogganing, bobsledding, skating, ice-boating and indoor evening recreation star the calendar for the winter sports visitor throughout Pennsylvania's winter vacation area.

Anticipating favorable weather predictions, Pennsylvania has once again prepared for another big winter sports season. A survey made of public winter sports areas by the Department of Commerce, vacation and recreation bureau indicates new developments and extensions at old centers.

Final touches have been added to ski lifts, tows and equipment; trails and slopes and toboggan chutes. Ski patrols and modern safety measures have again been arranged in most of the winter resort areas.

There will be plenty of lodging facilities in the Pennsylvania winter sports area throughout the season which continues through March. A number of lodges will continue successful all-inclusive five-day winter holidays for vacationers including room, meals, limited transportation and use of sports and recreational facilities.

For the toboggan enthusiast, resorts have arranged runs so constructed that they retain the thrill of the sport but minimize the possibility of mishap. Sparking, mirrored lakes invite the company of the ice-boater or the skater.

Pennsylvania's winter sports centers, reached by numerous trains, planes and buses on regular schedules, are within a few hours of all Eastern and Mid-western cities.

In the entire Pennsylvania winter sports area, there is a wide range in rates, since accommodation range from dormitories to duplex and suite elegance. Snow fans interested in sites, as well as facilities available, will find all information listed in the winter sports booklet published by the Department of Commerce. This booklet is free upon request to the Department, State Capitol, Harrisburg.

SUGAR GROVE

Sugar Grove, Dec. 27.—Sugar Grove Girl Scout Troop 6 had two Christmas parties. The Thursday night patrol had a sleigh ride party, with Alden Rowley driving the tractor hauling the bobsled, and Mrs. A. A. Grant and Mrs. Dorothea Taylor adult leaders. They made a tour of the streets with singing and sleigh bells and then went to the home of Mrs. Howard Onink for a party with Christmas tree gifts and refreshments.

Mrs. Eugene Anderson assisted Mrs. Onink, and the girls packed a box for a family in the community. They also collected used clothing to be sent to an orphanage which has recently had a bad fire near Pittsburgh. The Monday afternoon patrol had a Christmas supper party at the home of Mrs. Clifford Storms, with a gift exchange and games. Adult patrol leaders will be Mrs. John Stuart, Mrs. Clifford Storms and Mrs. Gerald Miller.

dominated the summer games. Russia is strong in many branches of summer sports, such as women's track and field, sprints and distance running, wrestling, weight-lifting, boxing, and possibly swimming.

The strongest indication that the Russians mean to face the U. S. and the rest of the world in sports is given in newspaper editorials urging Soviet athletes to greater heights.

Russia has until Jan. 1 to enter the winter games at Oslo, and probably even a belated entry would be accepted. The Soviets have some good speed skaters and possibly a few skiers.

AKELEY

Mrs. Arthur Bradley is in Corydon to spend a week with relatives there.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Randall went to Pittsburgh where they took a plane for St. Louis to spend the holidays with their son, Walter Randall and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nelson and daughter Gladys spent Thursday in Jamestown.

The WEA Review held its regular meeting and Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Hagel Hale on Wednesday. Election of officers resulted as follows: Frances Kalfar, president; Marie Worle, vice president; chaplain, Mary Potter; recording secretary, Hattie Holt; treasurer, Mary Stipple; financial secretary, Christine Lundmark; lady cermonia, Edna Angove; sergeant, Argill Haller. Mrs. Hale and Mrs. Haller served delicious refreshments. There was an exchange of Christmas gifts.

the puzzle of what to do with five bright green and yellow neckties with silk fringes.

In line with the tradition, here's a bridge riddle for you. When is a finesse not a finesse? As today's hand shows, the answer is: When it's a safety play.

When today's hand was played, West opened the queen of clubs, and South won with the ace. Declarer drew three rounds of trumps and then began on the hearts.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE with MAJOR HOOPLE

After winning the first round of hearts with the king, South led a small heart... and took a finesse that was really a safety play. In short, he finessed dummy's ten of hearts.

South wasn't a bit worried about losing this finesse. If East had been able to produce the jack of hearts, there would have been only the nine and the eight of hearts still out.

Dummy could pick those up with the ace and queen, after which the six of hearts would also be good. Those three heart tricks in dummy would furnish discards for South's losing spades.

As it happened, the ten of hearts won. Now declarer could discard two spades on the ace and queen of hearts, assuring the slam contract. He could take the spade finesse thereafter to try for an overtrick, not caring greatly whether the finesse succeeded or failed.

If you think the safety play is just "fancy," see what happens if

No man has ever climbed the ladder of success with his hand in his pockets.

South puts up dummy's queen of hearts. The suit fails to break, and now only one spade can be discarded. South must try the spade finesse, which loses, and he is left with nothing but vague regrets and a minus score of 100 points.

American Team Is Crushed By Aussies

Sydney, Australia, Dec. 28--(AP) --In one of the most magnificent exhibitions of tennis ever seen in any country, Frank Sedgman completed his job of crushing America's Davis Cup team today.

With issue still in balance in the fifth and deciding match of the challenge round, the young bland Aussie ace sliced Vic Seixas into ribbons, 6-4, 6-2, 6-2, to retain the coveted cup for his country, three matches to two.

Ted Schroeder had kept the challenger in the running by handily Mervyn Rose his second straight set defeat, 6-4, 13-11, 7-5.

COST OF LIVING OVER THE PAST 100 YEARS

Over the generations, it has cost the American public more and more money to live... in the past fifteen years alone, living costs have risen almost 75%... things which bore a $1.00 price tag in 1936 are likely to cost $1.75 today... people who have the same income now as in 1936 are having a hard time stretching their dollars to cover today's needs... People who have saved cash buy less with it than they could have fifteen years ago. But people who invested their money in Mutual Investment Funds fifteen years ago have a different story to tell. The 15 year period selected above was chosen because it was one of severe inflation in living costs, it is not an indication of the future... no one can tell now what the future value of the dollar will be in terms of what you buy in 5, 10 or 15 years. But, if you are looking to security investments to help the purchasing power of your dollars against rising living costs, why not call at our office and learn about Mutual Investment Funds???

Residents of James City Have a Close Call in Line Block

Kane Republican: More than 100 families in nearby James City were roused out early Christmas Day when a momentary gas line block shut off gas just long enough for fires to go out, then came back on with regular pressure, it was reported here today. The case paralleled a similar instance at Warren a few years ago when hundreds of persons were saved from asphyxiation by prompt action.

At James City, an employee of the James City Gas company which services 125 residences, noted a sudden drop to zero in pressure—then a few moments later, return of the gauge to normal. Fires went out and then the gas came back on.

It was a house to house job for an emergency crew and the job was taken up by neighbors and in rapid time, every resident of the community had been awakened and advised of the gas situation.

At one place one resident was carried out for air but reported the effect was from too much Christmas cheer rather than gas. No casualties were reported from the incident.

Officials of the James City Gas company expressed belief that frost had formed in the line and was moving through when it blocked-up. As pressure increased, the block loosened and let the gas through normally. Gas pressure from regulators into the community lines remained constant.

The Changing Landscapes

RALPH G. ECKERT

Warren, Penna.
Friday, Dec. 28, 1951

Hello Folks: The long evenings about this time of the year always provide a good opportunity for us to sit down and take inventory of our accomplishments for the past year and to make plans for the new year.

One of the first things we think about is how did we make out as far as those "greenbacks" are concerned? Relating directly to and tying right in with our income is a very important point that must be considered; are we turning our land over into the new year in better shape than we did in 1950? Is there less erosion and runoff and more conservation of top-soil, lime and fertilizer? Are we using our gift from nature as efficiently as we could? If we are—then let us continue, and if possible improve its use throughout the new year. If we are not—then we had better make plans to do something besides thinking and talking about it. Only conservation practices applied on the land is effective in controlling this thief of our top soil and other materials. We would surely call in our local police if we caught some one stealing lime and fertilizer from our barns, yet thousands of one of these materials are stolen from our fields through improper land use and not a thing being done about it.

Another thing to check on is our equipment. Has it been roughed in out of the weather, re-

Hal Boyle's Comment

By HAL BOYLE

New York—AP—A fellow came up to me the other day and said thoughtfully:

"Have you noticed how much nicer women have been lately?"

Well, to tell the truth I hadn't. But after brooding about it a bit, I had to admit it was true. Have you noticed it yourself?

It may be that 1951 was just a good vintage year for la belle femme. It may be the girls are making more of an effort to be charming because the man crop is getting scarcer as the draft calls more lads into service.

But I think it is just a natural result of their steadily expanding emancipation. A powerful sex—one of the two greatest in the world—is just coming into real flower.

Women are getting bigger and better in every way. And, as they achieve more important roles, they naturally feel more sure of themselves. That is why they are becoming more gracious, more tolerant of the foibles of man.

Science found this year that men are living longer. But it found that women are living longer—and longer yet. Why not? They have more to live for, and more to live with.

As women find it easier and easier to compete with men in any activity from Indian hand wrestling to peddling life insurance, they are beginning to adopt more of a live-and-let-live policy toward them. They resent the ordinary man less and less and pity him more and more. They will even buy him lunch now and then.

It is hard to name a field today that women haven't entered during the last year. The New York Stock Exchange even is about to take in a feminine member. And haven't you observed the number of lady taxi drivers is increasing daily? They wheel the cab while pappy makes extra money in a defense factory.

The year has also seen the ladies take great strides forward in the realm of the mechanical arts. A housewife who used to take pride in the fact she could fix her own electric iron no longer even brags about the fact she can repair a television set. I know of one fellow who gave his wife a new electric train for Christmas instead of a fur coat—and got away with it.

With this new self-confidence, women are letting their human politeness and civility come to the fore. A dazed male friend staggered up to my desk just yesterday and stammered, "Y-y-you may call me a liar, but as I was coming into the office just now I saw a woman push her own way through the revolving door."

Why not? Incidents like this are bound to multiply. There are bound to be many more such examples of womanly self-reliance in 1952.

And they will be noted and appreciated by men, too many of whom still have the outdated idea that women rely only on wiles and pretended weakness to achieve their ends.

Yes, men will come to appreciate at last what a treasure a good strong woman is. In fact the trend has already set in.

For example, Mohamed Ben Mohamed, a husband living in French Morocco, returned to his home recently to find his wife had left him.

"It is my cursed tongue that is at fault—I used it too often to criticize her," he lamented to police. And to show his remorse, do you know what Mohamed Ben Mohamed did?

He stuck his tongue out on a chopping block—and cut it off.

It certainly was little enough for a man to do who had misunderstood a good wife—1951 model.

MEET MR. AVERAGE AMERICAN—Robert Rehm, who fits the Census Bureau's description of the "average American," takes his average family for an average walk on an average day, through the streets of Levittown, L. I. Mr. Rehm, an electrical assembler, is classified as a semi-skilled worker, has an annual salary that approximates $3000, owns a refrigerator, radio, and telephone, and still pays on his home. His wife, Peggy, leads Jeff, three, by the hand, and Daddy carries 3-mos.-old Chris. The dog does the average amount of barking.

Salada Tea Official Lauds Newspapers

Detroit—One of the nation's leading users of consistent, small space newspaper advertising, the Salada Tea Company, a leader in the tea industry, will celebrate its 60th anniversary in 1952, it was announced at the company's annual sales convention held at the Hotel Statler here.

In his special 60th anniversary address delivered at the meeting, Vice President Edgar B. Pinto traced the progress of the company since it was founded in 1892, and attributed much of Salada's six decades of success to steady newspaper advertising and the quality of their product—two foundations on which their business has been built.

"Numerous tests have been conducted through the years in other advertising media, but they have indicated repeatedly that newspapers seem to work best for us," said Mr. Pinto. "In our 61st year of business, newspapers will continue to play a major role in our advertising program, just as the same fine quality will continue to be our policy in the blending and packaging of our product."

In discussing Salada quality, Mr. Pinto disclosed that in 1952 Salada tea bags will still contain over 10 per cent more tea in every tea bag than any other leading brand. "This is consistent with the policy of top quality instituted by our founder 60 years ago, when he first introduced to America the superior teas from India and Ceylon in packaged form," continued Mr. Pinto. "The more-tea-per-bag policy costs your company many hundreds of thousands of dollars each year, but we believe that we are more than adequately repaid through the consumer's respect for Salada quality and the resulting loyal patronage."

Fredric March won the motion picture academy "Oscar" as the best actor in 1932 and 1946.
